ENCUENTRO MEDITERRANEO MEDITERRANEAN MEETING

Rehabilitation and energy poverty – challenges:

- Change of Paradigm/Model for public housing attribution data of energy consuming needs and capacities are not available in present time (energy and water contracts are responsibility of tenants)
- Focus of rehabilitation is not to mitigate energy poverty; need to have diagnosis in order to plan and influence future rehabilitation interventions
- Need to learn and study about:
 - energy poverty and its "symptoms"
 - co-relate with energy efficiency adequate behaviors
 - tackle issues like: energy supply contracts, pricing, ...

To continue:

- Awareness and information campaigns next to residents, local shops and network partner organizations but also staff involved (so that people disseminate their knowledge in various contexts of their lives: home, work, sport events, leisure activities, etc...);
- Energy literacy programs for residents, professionals, schools, public equipment's staff members, ...
- Rehabilitation projects that better reply to better energy efficiency of housing patrimony.
